A Fond Farewell

Dear CHUMC Family,

It is very sad to be selling my home at 3904 Crestpark, Farmers Branch. Soon, I will be moving to 7015 Red Bug Lake Rd. Oviedo, Florida 32765 to be near my daughter, Sheryl Culley, and her family. I have been a member of Chapel Hill for over 40 years, and my family has been blessed to have been a part of this incredible church for all of those years.

I would like to thank each of you for your friendship and for all the wonderful memories that I will be taking with me.

My love, my prayers, and my best wishes for CHUMC,

Marie Huie

“Come Sunday” UMH No. 728 Duke Ellington

Ellington was a deeply religious man who traveled with a rosary, a cross and a Bible. He studied the Scriptures closely, and was particularly fond of the Song of Solomon.

“To the Christian Sunday is, or should be, another Easter, in which God’s victory in Christ over sin and death are celebrated in work, word, song, prayer, and preaching.

The inclusion of this song in a mainline hymnal is unique and reflects the jazz interest and background of the UM Hymnal editor. The first version of this song appeared in the collection Ecumenical Praise (1977), also edited by Dr. Young. Rather than being written by Ellington in a set hymn form, the stanzas in the hymnal are excerpted from improvised performances found in recordings and personal statements.

For example, an Ellington quotation, “Gray skies are just clouds passing over” becomes “I don’t mind the gray skies, ’cause they’re just clouds passing by.”

The song is ultimately about the providence of God in all our lives. The refrain addresses God directly, “Lord, dear Lord above, God Almighty, God of love,” and then makes a petition, “please look down and see my people through.” The stanzas point to hope and heaven, concluding that “With God’s blessing we can make it through eternity.”

I know that... Jazz music empowers. It breaks through isolation, leads to reflection and encourages a spirit of community.

Now, for 20 years, the jazz ministry has expanded to all over the world, starting jazz vespers. The jazz music complements the church’s more traditional musical offerings and has become an integral part of many congregations. I think that...

“Jazz is something that can speak to people in a way that is totally different from classical music.” “The music itself -- there is so much improvisation in jazz. It really has to come from your soul. It’s a more personal experience.”

Whether it's a "jazz service" focused on the Psalms of lament or a joyful style rendition of "We Are Walking In The Light of God", jazz music transforms the experience of worship.

We are more together than the sum of our individual selves. We serve each other and our creator. These attributes of Christian community are also true to jazz, so it should not surprise us that jazz is a wonderful form of worship music.
