CHUMC family,

How is the resurrection enlivening you this Easter season? We are now three weeks into Easter and, thus, three weeks into our series entitled Resurrection Stories. My hope is that, regardless of the messenger, you are experiencing the life of Christ in an animating way.

We may be dealing with trauma, our past, or feelings of isolation and loneliness. These are things that may seek to eclipse the light of Christ in our lives. They may make us feel dead, if not physically, emotionally, mentally, and relationally. The good news is that the breath of God is breathed into us and upon us so that we may find new life. If we never forget the trauma, we can find healing and strength beyond the trauma. If we are wrecked by guilt and shame because of our past, we can know God's gracious forgiveness and the Holy Spirit's empowerment so we can lead lives of love and redemption. If we feel isolated and alone, we can find new life in knowing God is, and always will be, in communion with us and that we can find a community that enlivens and renews us.

Have you found your resurrection story yet? If so, praise God. If not, hang in there and know that God and we are with you along the way to new life.

Grace and peace,

Rev. J.D. Allen
